

Fly Your Flag

May 21, 2025

As we enter the summer months, now is a good time to check your outdoor flags for signs of wear and tear. U.S. flags that are in poor condition should be disposed of respectfully.

For information on how to care for the flag, the VFW Store offers several booklets. Go to vfwstore.org/category/programs/citizeneducation.

To replace those retired flags, shop the VFW Store.

The Tough Tex flags are the toughest and longest lasting. They're available in a variety of sizes. Click vfwstore.org/products/GP108 to shop.

Polyester flags are more economical while still retaining quality. Click vfwstore.org/products/GP109 for those.

For the complete line of U.S. flags available at the VFW Store, click vfwstore.org/category/flags/usflags.

The VFW Store offers several other outdoor flags as well. For those, click vfwstore.org/category/flags/otheroutdoorflags.
